How do you want the Efeng Bacha Initiative to assist your entrepreneurship journey?

I want to shy away from the common help many businesses always seek for which is "Funds", as much as it is a primary focus we all could cry for but my primary focus is that I want the Efeng Bacha Initiative to help me get entrepreneurship skills which are amongst others, how to handle a business, how to keep a business floating, how to work with people and how to give back to the community through the business. In that manner the Initiative would have helped me big time because we can all be entrepreneurs in the world but good and skilful ones are a few and that is what makes many businesses to fail.

How do you #ServeLikeMadiba?

I involve myself in community-based projects that seek to make a difference in the society. I serve the community by making sure every issue they have regarding youth problems is solved, only where I can be able to help seeing that our communities have been deserted so I take advantage of platforms such as these ones to raise community problems and generate solutions that I have to go implement. As much as I, personally, become the voice of the voiceless but I also make sure that the voices of both a girl and a boy child are not suppressed by anyone and whatever problem or ideas they raise is heard. Serving like Madiba in a way that lets the community #ThumaMina.

As a #legacyleader, what is your advice to the children and youth of our nation?

Children and Youth of South Africa should stand up and fight for their future, get hold of it before it slips away taking into consideration the status quo of the societal problems facing us, to prevent a situation whereby in the future we have to outsource Presidents, CEO's, Managers, Activists of Change because we don't have them. We must change the world because the future belongs to no one but us, we must wake up and stop smelling the coffee and drink it before it is too late!

What is the legacy you hope to leave one day?

I want to leave a positive change on as many people that I can, I want to leave the culture of talking when it is not fashionable to do so, to be active in many things that concern the youth. I want my accomplishments to inspire the future generations to be activist of change everywhere they are, no matter the dynamics that may want to stop them. I want to leave a legacy of being vocal no matter your age, a legacy of confidence amongst those who often think they are not important.

What is your favourite Nelson Mandela quote?

"Lead from the back and let others believe they are in front".
